2.0 Lifecycle Report Status and Updates

Status of 2011 Lifecycle Report

The TPA managers agreed to post feedback received (including that from Ecology) on the 2011 Lifecycle Report on the DOE website. Specific responses will not be developed but future reports will indicate changes from the previous report in response to feedback (e.g., Section 1.8 in the 2012 Lifecycle Report). The managers discussed the need to reach consensus on feedback from Oregon Department of Energy – this will be discussed at a future PMM meeting.

Status of 2012 Lifecycle Report

This report will be submitted to EPA and Ecology by January 31, 2012 and will be posted on the DOE website 2 weeks later (to allow time for EPA and Ecology to review report). A Fact Sheet

Status of 2013 Lifecycle Report

Based on a working meeting held on January 4, 2012, the TPA managers signed an agreement to document DOE's planning case remedies for the alternatives analysis of the 200-CW-1, 200-CW-3, 200-OA-1 and 200-WA-1 operable unit waste sites in the 2013 Lifecycle Report. Incorporation of "what-if" analyses in future reports, or elsewhere, will be discussed at future PMM meetings.

After submittal of the 2013 Lifecycle Report, Dennis Faulk wants to review the report purpose and frequency with the TPA agency managers.

All action items as of the January 12, 2012 PMM are reflected in Attachment B, and new action items have been added.

4.0 Agreements Reached

The TPA managers agreed that specific responses will not be provided to feedback received on the 2011 Lifecycle Report. All feedback received will be posted on the DOE website to promote transparency.

The TPA managers signed an agreement regarding the scope of the alternative analysis to be included in the 2013 Lifecycle Report.
