There will be a North Slope Revegetation Committee meeting from 9:00 to noon tomorrow, January 17, at the Hanford Training Center, 1812 Terminal Drive behind Columbia Basin Racquet Club, in the Horsetail Falls Room, #35. That committee consists of Janet Ebaugh, Jay McConnaughey, Rico Cruz, Kathy Leonard, John Hall, Glenn Golding, and Paul Kube. The subject is to set framework and agenda for the January 27 meeting.

All comments need to be sent to Chris Burford on the Nursery Letter by Wednesday, January 18. There will be a Nursery Letter conference call at 2:00 on Friday, January 20 to discuss changes and comments. Please let me know if you can attend.

There will be a Risk Assessment Committee meeting on Tuesday, January 24, in Conference Room 1200 at 2440 Sevens Center Place. The meeting is scheduled from 7:30 to 4:00 but I haven't gotten any confirmation of those times. Larry Gadbois is the NRTC point of contact. Alden Foote is managing the meeting.

There will be a conference call regarding the Vision Statement starting at 9:00 a.m. on Wednesday, January 25. Please let me know if you can attend.

There will be a North Slope Revegetation Meeting all day on Friday, January 27, in the Atrium Building, 639 Cullum, Richland, Conference Room 129.

On Wednesday, February 1, there will be a presentation by the Nature Conservancy on Hanford's Biological Diversity, at the WSU Auditorium in Richland, Washington, from 9:30 to noon.

The next NRTC meeting is scheduled in Portland, Oregon, on Thursday and Friday, February 9 and 10. Time and place to be established. Dirk Dunning and Susan Hughes are points of contact.
