Subject: Responses to Comments for the Draft Avoidance Study Report

Avoidance Draft
Report Comment...

Hello Hanford Trustees:

The attached file contains our (USGS and FWS) "Responses to Comments" for the Draft Report "Laboratory Evaluation of the Behavioral Avoidance-Preference Response of Chinook Salmon (Oncorhynchus tshawytscha) to Chromium in the Hanford Reach of the Columbia River, Washington, USA"

Comments on this report were received from Jay McConnaughey, Larry Gadbois, and Jamie Zeisloft. Could these folks please look over our responses to your comments and ensure we have answered them adequately. Some of the comments, in particular, DOE comments 4, 16, 19, and 20 required substantial modifications. We will add these modifications directly to the report, and provide the actual modified portions of the report to the commenting agencies, hopefully by next week.

If needed, we could set up a conference call to address any outstanding issues, or we could address them at the next HNRTC meeting.

Before the next HNRTC meeting, I will be on travel status the weeks of March 12 and 19, and basically unavailable for a conference call, except for Friday March 16 or Monday morning March 19.

Call me (509-893-8003) or email if you have any questions.

Thanks,
Brad

Teri: Greg Patton will be available for the conference call planned for March 22 at 1:15. So we don't need to make any agenda changes in that regard.

Tom: You'll need to make arrangements for a conference call speaker phone. Hopefully you've been able to set things up for Aaron to call in.

Thanks, Jamie.
