Dear Mr. Faulk,

As a citizen of Washington state I am concerned with the cost and the slowness of overall actions of cleanup at Hanford site.

The idea of disposing Hanford wastes at landfills outside Hanford is ludicrous.

The ERDF should be the choice if all precautions at site and monitoring are in place from day one and a law that only Hanford site past waste goes into this landfill.

Besides endangering U.S. citizens lives for years the cost of environmental cleanup is obscene.

Sincerely,

Joan Clish
